

Empathy & Perspective

Perspective Taking: To see the world as others see it.

Consider about 90% of the professionally working nurses in the United States are female (Becker's Hospital Review 2015) and 73% of Registered Nurses in the United States are non-Hispanic Whites (HRSA).

How closely does this reflect the diverse population of the United States?

In your experience, how has the lack of diversity in nursing impacted patient care?

What determines perspective?

What unique lens do you see the world through?

What questions can you ask your patients to gain their perspective?
